OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it! ye sons of the brave,
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save

MONDAY MORNING, MAY 5, 1862.

Our space this morning is given up entirely to the news from the East.

DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN.—Mr. Daniel H. Lownsdale, of this city, died at his residence yesterday afternoon. He has been a resident of this valley ever since 1844, and was one of the original owners of the town site of Portland. He was about sixty years of age.

FASTEST TIME ON RECORD.—The steamer Sierra Nevada was only seventy-two hours in coming from San Francisco to Portland, this trip. This is quickest trip ever made between the two ports. She will carry the antlers now, most certainly.

LATER FROM THE EAST.

The following Eastern news came by stage on Saturday night. It is from the Union of April 26th.

Fort Monroe, April 13d.—Refugees from Norfolk report that the Merrimac was at Gosport Navy Yard, having iron shields placed over her port holes. Four gunboats have been launched at Norfolk. Four more are being constructed.

There are but few troops at Richmond and Norfolk. They have mostly gone to Yorktown. Fourteen thousand passed through Richmond in one day, en route for Yorktown.

Cairo, April 22d.—Gen. Mitchell's division has arrived at Tuscumbia, Alabama. He has now possession of 200 miles of the Memphis and Charleston Railroad.

It is reported that Gen. Burnside has received proposals from the Governor of North Carolina for the surrender of that State.

An officer of the army in town to-night, from Warrenton Junction, reports that the rebels are in strong force on the south bank of the Rappahannock, in the direction of Gordonsville. Gen. G. W. Smith is at Gordonsville, strongly intrenched, with 30,000 men. General Jackson is crossing over from Shenandoah valley, to unite 8,000 men to this force—making a total column of 46,000 men.

Washington, April 24th.—A Republican caucus was held last night. Fifty members were present. A general debate ensued on the Confiscation Bills. The sense of the caucus seemed to be in favor of discriminating against the leaders in confiscating all kinds of property. It was unanimously agreed to refer all pending bills in the House to a Select Committee of seven.

At noon to-day it was announced that a decision would be given upon the proposals for conveying mails on the Pacific coast and in the West. Large numbers of bidders were present. Proposals for the Pacific coast much higher than formerly.

The Havana Diaria states that persons direct from New Orleans report the rebel defences have been much exaggerated: that Fort Jackson and Fort St. Phillip have been abandoned and the cannon taken away.—There is nothing to prevent the Federal fleet from sailing direct to New Orleans.

Later news from Vera Cruz had reached Havana. After an unsatisfactory conference between the allied commanders, the French General decided to march his division against the City of Mexico, taking upon himself the responsibility. The English and Spanish Plenipotentiaries thereupon decided to withdraw their troops. It was stated that the Juarez Government was ready to give every satisfaction to the Allies in the matter of claims, but will not listen to the idea of a monarchy, and in case the Allies advance to the Capital he will retire from it.

Washington, April 24th.—Captain Cutting of Burnside's staff, arrived yesterday. On the 17th General Reno left Newbern and proceeded to Roanoke Island; from which place he took two thousand men and proceeded to Elizabeth City, where a strong rebel force was reported to have intrenched themselves. On Saturday an advance was made upon the rebels. The enemy opened with artillery as soon as our troops made their appearance. Our troops were formed, and charged on the enemy, who ran at the first fire. We then immediately took possession of the town. After remaining an hour we returned to the main army. Our forces had three boat howitzers. The force of the rebels consisted of a Georgia regiment of one thousand men, and one hundred more—a portion of Wise's Legion—with batteries of artillery. The enemy were totally routed, with a loss of about sixty men. Our loss was twelve killed and forty-eight wounded.

Information received from Union sources is that the guns of the national forces, under Burnside, probably opened on Fort Macon on Tuesday or yesterday.

Washington, April 24th.—In the Senate, to-day, the bill recognizing Liberia and Hayti passed—32 against 7.

The Confiscation Bill was considered, and an amendment limiting the confiscation to persons holding offices under the rebel Government, was adopted—27 to 11.

The House, by a vote of 9 to 31, referred all confiscation and emancipation bills to a Committee of seven.

Cairo, April 24th.—A skirmish took place between our cavalry advance at Pittsburg Landing, and a strong detachment of rebel cavalry, on Wednesday. After fighting an hour, both parties retired; loss inconsiderable.

There has been no attempt to move the main body of the army yet. A Union man from Western Tennessee reports that the woods are full of Union men, fleeing from the provisions of the Conscription Act.

St. Louis, April 24th.—A well authenticated report has just reached here, that the Texans, 2,000 strong, were intrenching themselves at Santa Fe. Col. Canby, having strengthened his command up to 1,200 strong is fifty miles south of that place. This may enable our two columns to act together, making our force 2,400. The enemy's artillery numbers eighteen pieces—ours twelve.

Washington, April 24th.—A dispatch from the army at Yorktown, received to-day, states that two deserters came in representing the rebel force to be a hundred thousand strong, busily constructing works near their present lines. Jeff. Davis is not there. On Tuesday, the rebels came from their rifle pits in front of Lee's Mills and attacked our pickets.—They were repulsed with the loss of several killed and one prisoner. Our loss was two killed and one mortally wounded.

Chicago, April 25th.—The Secretary of War has ordered troops to be sent forward by every stage until all stations on the overland mail route shall be fully protected.

Correspondents from the battle field of Shiloh report that the work of burying the dead was complete. The returns show over six thousand killed, of whom four thousand four hundred were rebels.

Cairo, April 25th.—The steamers Bell, Memphis and Choctaw, from Pittsburg Landing on Thursday morning, have arrived.—The roads had much improved. The teamsters were fired into thirty-five miles below Pittsburg by a band of guerillas—one person being killed. Passengers report hearing heavy firing in the direction of Pittsburg, when passing Savannah. The cannonading brisk, grew louder, and was heard for miles this side of Savannah. It is not believed at headquarters here that the fight had commenced. Dispatches from Halleck, received yesterday, make no mention of it. Our gunboats had effected a passage over Muscle Shoals at Florence, Alabama, and penetrated as far as Huntsville, capturing a quantity of commissary stores belonging to the rebels.

A dispatch from Fortress Monroe, dated 24th, says: "The Norfolk Day Book has a dispatch from New Orleans, dated 23d, stating that there has been a heavy and continued bombardment of Fort Jackson all night. It is still progressing. The rebels in the fort were represented as cheerful, with faith in their ability to hold their position. They are making repairs as best they can. Their barbette guns are still in working order, though most of them have been disabled at times.

Newmarket, (Va.) April 25th.—Bank's advance has reached a point nine miles beyond Harrisonburg. The rebel deserters say Jackson is at Staudardsville.

The Richmond Examiner of April 22d, says: Official dispatches have been received stating that the bombardment of the forts below New Orleans commenced on the 14th.

The Atlanta (Ga.) Confederacy acknowledges that Northern Alabama and Western Georgia are completely at the mercy of Gen. Mitchell, and says his present position is such that he can easily cut off the reinforcements and means of retreat of Gen. Kirby Smith, who is alleged to be marching towards Huntsville.

Lieut. Gov. Korner of Illinois, has been designated Minister to Spain, vice Carl Shurz resigned.

The flotilla on the Rappahannock has captured sixteen schooners.

Washington, April 23th.—Specials to New York papers say a gentleman direct from McClellan's headquarters reports that our forces have greatly the advantage of the enemy. Our sharpshooters are a terror to the rebel Generals. Our approaches command the rebel intrenchments. On Monday last there was firing between two rebel regiments inside the rebel works. It continued a long time. Our forces could distinctly see them carrying off the dead and wounded. The affair is believed to have been a mutiny and measures taken to quell it.

Washington, April 23.—In the House the Committee on Military Affairs made a voluminous report to-day.—The Committee takes ground that the present system of fortifications is of little use, and that we are comparatively defenseless against mail-clad ships. Among the conclusions arrived at by the Committee are the necessity for the immediate creation of adequate means for the exclusion from our harbors of hostile iron-sheeted ships, the erection of forts on lakes Ontario and Erie, and the construction for the protection of the Pacific coast of a first class military channel of communication between Missouri and San Francisco, and the permanent maintenance of an army and navy sufficient in number to command respect at home and abroad.

Specials to the New York papers this morning contain the following: The Senate Military Committee has passed upon several nominations. Among those reported for confirmation was Gen. Shields as Major General.

Horace Maynard returned from Tennessee, and took his seat to-day. He declares himself in favor of a stringent Confiscation Act. Several other border State members will support one.

The Senate Committee on Territories has instructed its chairman to report a bill identical with that reported to the House for organizing the Territory of Arizona. One section extends the Wilmot Proviso over every Territory now organized.

Washington, April 25th.—The Senate yesterday unanimously ratified the Seward and Lyons treaty for the suppression of the African slave trade. The main points are mutual right of search, without regard to the number employed, and the summary trial and punishment of those engaged in the traffic.

Senators McDougall and Latham voted for the bill recognizing Hayti and Liberia.

The passage of the Confiscation bill, reaching rebel leaders in civil life as well as military and naval forces, is now considered probable.

Information has been received at headquarters at Yorktown, that the rebels were contrating a large force at Gordonsville, hoping to bag Gen. Banks. It was also their intention to let McDowell cross the Rappahannock, and then precipitate a superior force on him.

The Richmond Examiner of the 22d says the Confederate troops have cut the canal between York and Warwick, which gives them a water front across the whole stretch of country. This must contribute materially to the strength of their position. It states further that on Saturday night our men were engaged in throwing up entrenchments until daylight. On Sunday they were completed and the guns mounted.

Full Details of News.

Washington, April 24.—A bill for a line of steamships from San Francisco to Shanghae was taken up and passed—26 to 16.

It is reported here that the rebels at Norfolk, fearing an attack on the city, have obstructed the channel of the Elizabeth river, with vessels, which will be sunk on the approach of our gunboats.

New York, April 25.—Reliable information places Gen. Lee in command of the rebels at Yorktown, as Gen. Johnston did not remain.

Contrabands say that the rebels had nearly 200 killed and wounded in the recent affair at Lee's Mills. A gang of 3,000 negroes, who were at work on the dam, had a dozen killed and were stampeded by our shells, so that they had to be forced back with bayonets.

Cairo, April 26.—A reconnoissance in force was made from Pittsburg Landing on Thursday, the 24th. When 9 miles out a rebel camp was surprised, and 27 prisoners were taken. They advanced within 6 miles of Corinth, and remained 4 hours. No enemy was seen.

Pittsburg Landing, April 26.—Maj. Gen. C. F. Smith died at Savannah yesterday afternoon, of dysentery.

St. Louis, April 26.—A gentleman who was at Memphis a few days ago, saw and conversed with several persons belonging to Bragg's army, with whom he was acquainted. The whole rebel force, which accounts recently placed at Jacksonport, Arkansas, had arrived.

Washington, April 26.—Letters from soldiers at Yorktown give a sort of confirmation to the reported refusal of an Irish brigade to serve, and their surrender of their arms.

In consequence of a wound received by Commodore Foote, at Fort Donelson, he has asked to be relieved from the command of the Western fleet. The Department not willing to lose his valuable services, has ordered Captain H. Davis to report to the squadron as second in command, thus releasing the Commodore from much of the physical labor of his responsible position.

New York, April 26.—The Herald's correspondent at Fredricksburg, writing under date of the 23d, states that Gen. McDowell's force had occupied that city.

The rebel army is reported as being greatly demoralized by the Union victories, news of which the rebel authorities in vain endeavored to suppress.

The new iron-clad vessels Galena has reached Fortress Monroe, and is considered as formidable as the Monitor.

St. Louis, April 26.—A special dispatch to the Democrat, dated from Cairo, says that passengers arrived here to-day from Pittsburg Landing, who left on Thursday night. They report that an engagement took place on Thursday between the advance guards of the National and Rebel armies. The latter were driven back towards Corinth. Halleck was pushing his whole army vigorously forward.

Fortress Monroe, April 27.—The Petersburg Va. "Express" of Saturday (20th April) contains the following dispatch: "Mobile, April 25.—The enemy passed Fort Jackson at 4 o'clock yesterday morning. When the news reached New Orleans the excitement was boundless. Martial law was put in full force. Business was suspended. All the cotton and the steamboats, except those necessary for the transportation of ammunition and coin, were destroyed. At 1 o'clock the operator bade good-bye by telegraph, saying that the enemy had appeared before the city."

Washington, April 28.—Gen. Wool telegraphed to the War Department that to-day's news of the occupation of New Orleans is confirmed.

Washington, April 28.—On the 4th an expedition, en route to Port Christian, consisting of three steamers loaded with troops, were attacked by three rebel steamers. After a fight of 30 minutes, one of our steamers was withdrawn, owing to the crowded state of her decks. The others continued the fight for 1 hour and 40 minutes, when the enemy withdrew, apparently much crippled.

Forts Barrancas and McRae have been evacuated by the rebels.

St. Louis, April 28th.—A gentleman connected with the military telegraph from Omaha informs the Republican that the recent troubles with the Overland Mail Company were not occasioned by the Indians, but by the Company's employes, who not having been paid wages for many months became disgusted with this state of things and seized the stock and other available property belonging to the Company and fled to the new gold fields of British Columbia and Oregon. The Indians along the route are represented as peaceably disposed, and as having not interfered in the least with the line.

Chicago, April 29—11 a. m.—Refugees from Memphis who have arrived at the fleet report a majority of the citizens of that place loyal. Secret Union meetings are held nightly, the members of which are in correspondence with similar clubs in every large city in the South.

Gen. Prentiss and other Federal prisoners were there on the Wednesday after the Pittsburg Landing. A speech to his men in the streets was loudly cheered by the citizens. Our soldiers sang the Star Spangled Banner, as they were starting to Tuscaloosa, where they are at present confined.

The rebel generals Price and Van Dorn have arrived at Memphis.

It is stated that Gen. Halleck's force is now 160,000 men.

Washington, April 29.—A bill was reported and passed the House to punish polygamy. It is the same as one introduced two years since by Morrill.

Fortress Monroe, April 27.—Our gunboats shelled the works near Yorktown, for an hour, early yesterday morning.

One company of the 1st Massachusetts carried by assault an advance work guarded by a body of rebels, said to be defended by two companies of infantry. They (the rebels) broke and run. Our loss was 3 killed and 13 wounded. We took 24 prisoners and destroyed the work.

Cairo, April 27.—The Memphis Avalanche of the 23d states that on the 11th the Federals took possession of Pocahontas, Arkansas.

10,000 Federal troops are at Doniphan, Mo., engaged in building flat boats on the Current river with which to descend the Black and White rivers.

Gen. Turchin's Brigade have evacuated Tuscumbia and retired to Huntsville, where Gen. Mitchell's Division is encamped. Turchin burned the town before he left.

Wheeling, Va., April 27.—The combined movements ordered by Gen. Fremont against the guerillas who still infest Braxton, Webster, and the adjoining counties, have been eminently successful; in the fight seven miles beyond Webster, seven guerillas were killed and ten captured.

The town of Addison, long the guerilla's haunt, has been burned. It is understood that all that class taken are to be shot.

Gen. Milroy's scouts, on the 23d, attacked the rear guard of the enemy ten miles east of the Shenandoah Mountain, and killed three rebels.

Conscripts are deserting in large numbers, swarming Cincinnati, and returning home.

A letter from Edisto, S. C., 18th inst., reports a brilliant affair at St. John's Island (date not given) between 70 Federals and 200 rebel cavalry. The latter were routed with a loss of 50 killed and wounded. No one killed on the Federal side.

Gen. Hudl's Division had arrived at Pittsburg Landing, and occupied the left.

We are assured by a General who is in constant communication with the Government, that there is no doubt but the blockade of New Orleans will be raised immediately on the re-establishing of the Union authority.

New York, April 29.—A special dispatch from Washington states that there is a rumor that Government is in possession of information that may lead to a cessation of hostilities and a mediation as a basis of compromise.

Washington, April 29.—It is stated that a majority of the Committee of Seven, to which was referred all the Confiscation bills, favor a strong bill for the confiscation of rebel property.

Kansas City, Mo., April 29.—Advices from New Mexico are received to the 15th of April. After the battle of Pigeon Ranch, Col. Slough fell back to Fort Union, at which place he received a dispatch from Gen Canby, ordering that a junction be formed with him at Galisteo. Slough arrived there on the 9th, and learned that the Texans had abandoned Santa Fe, and were retreating from the Territory.

Jefferson City, Mo., April 28.—The Governor has issued a proclamation convening a State Convention for the first Monday in June. The principal reason given is that the State should be re-districted so as to give Missouri two additional Representatives in Congress, to which she is entitled under the new ratio.

Wheeling, Va., April 29th.—Scouts report the capture of a Federal foraging party belonging to Gen. Milroy's command.

Cairo, April 29.—The steamer Bacon has arrived from Pittsburg Landing. Gen Pope advanced his division on Sunday four miles, and is now encamped in sight of the enemy's camp fires. Gens. Halleck, Buell and Grant have moved their headquarters to the front, to personally superintend the operations for the advance of the whole army, orders for which are hourly expected. Deserters who came in on Saturday report a former statement that Corinth was being evacuated.

Chicago, April 29.—P. M.—A dispatch from Fort Wright to-night says that deserters bring the following information in regard to New Orleans. The engagement at Fort Jackson on Thursday, April 24th, was desperate. One vessel was sunk and others were badly damaged. It was supposed that the Federal loss was heavy. The rebel loss was 150 killed and 184 wounded. The Federals took possession of the city on Friday, without a struggle—the rebel forts having evacuated it after destroying stores which they did not need. They carried away the military stores. There was great rejoicing of the Union citizens.

The following has been received through rebel sources: A special dispatch so the N. O. Delta of the 21st, from Fort Jackson the 20th, says the enemy's fire has much slackened. They have fired up to this time 37,000 pounds of powder and over 1,000 tons of iron. This bombardment is unprecedented in modern warfare. Our loss, [rebel,] so far as heard from, is 5 killed and 10 wounded. The mortar vessels are behind the points of woods, out of sight. We sunk two yesterday, and disabled one steamer.

Advices from the Department of the Shenandoah, received to-day, state that Gen. Banks, notwithstanding bad roads, is continuously pushing forward towards Strasburg, being now within a few miles of that place.

A dispatch from Mobile, the 27th, gives the following rebel statements: The Yankee Commodore Farragut promised the Mayor of New Orleans, who visited his fleet by a flag of truce, to make renewed demand for the surrender of the city, but has not done so up to 5 o'clock. Our ship, the McRae, came up from the Forts under a flag of truce, with 40 wounded. She communicated with the Federal flag-ship, but the result is not known. It is rumored that the Federals promised to let her return.

In conference with one of the Federal officers, after the correspondence between the Mayor and Commodore Farragut, an officer left, declaring he would shoot down the flag on the City Hall if it was not hauled down. He actually brought his ship within range, but has not fired thus far. It is reported that the French and English men-of-war are below and will enter their protest against shelling the city. It is believed the Yankee vessels are short of provisions and ammunition. The city is remarkably orderly, but the excitement is exceedingly intense and feelings of humiliation deep.

Pittsburg Landing, April 28.—Our advance, after a slight skirmish this morning with the rebels, in which we captured several prisoners, occupied Pea Ridge, and shortly after occupied Monterey, 12 or 14 miles from Corinth.

The capture of New Orleans was generally known in the rebel camps on the 27th.

On the 18th, two Louisiana regiments whose term had expired, but who were required by the conscription act to serve two years longer, laid down their arms and refused to fight. They were put under arrest.

Fortress Monroe, April 29.—Our earthworks before Yorktown begin to present a very formidable appearance. All yesterday and last night the enemy kept up a brisk fire, trying to draw us out. The works were not interfered with. Yesterday General Hancock, with a portion of his brigade, went to drive the rebels from the woods near our works.—Our troops delivered a well directed fire, causing the rebels to retreat, leaving their dead and wounded on the field.

Chicago, April 30.—The New Orleans Delta places the cotton in that city at 11,200 bales, all of which will probably fall into the hands of the Federals. On the approach of the fleet to the city, on Friday last, General Lowell, the rebel commander, withdrew his troops to camp Moore, on the Jackson railroad.

New York, April 30.—A letter from Washington yesterday, states that most positive information has been received from the vicinity of Memphis. Cotton in immense quantities was being destroyed in that section.

Chicago, April 30.—Local paragraphs in the Norfolk Day Book mention that a very small supply of eatables is exposed for sale, and say it becomes a question of great moment as to where and how people are to be fed.

The death of Samuel B. Todd, brother of Mrs Lincoln, is announced. He died on the battle field, from the effects of wounds received at Shiloh (Pittsburg Landing) in the action of April 7th.

Fortress Monroe, April 30.—The flag of truce from Norfolk to-day brought a party consisting of four ladies, two gentlemen and six children—all from Tennessee. They bring a report that all Union families in Tennessee had been ordered by proclamation to leave within 30 hours. 1,500 Union men left for Kentucky a week ago. On Friday, of a party of 400, in attempting to leave, 100 had been killed.

Southern papers speak in a most dismal strain of the surrender of New Orleans. The Norfolk Daybook says it is the most serious reverse of the war.

The following are the latest dispatches in the Richmond papers, received by Adjutant General Cooper, from General Lovell, dated Camp Moore, April 27th: Forts Jackson and St. Philip are still in good condition, and in our hands. The steamers Louisiana and McRae are safe. The enemy's fleet is at the city, but they have not forces enough to occupy. The inhabitants are staunchly loyal.

Mobile, April 28.—The forts on Lake Pontchartrain were all evacuated on the 25th. We have sustained considerable loss in supplies, and by the dismounting, but not by the destroying of guns. At Fort Pike all the buildings are burned, including the telegraph office. All the gunboats on the Lake have been burned by our own people. The Mobile boat Florida Division and several others are running troops, stores and ordinance to Manchuck, after which we fear they will be burned. The Yankee fleet was returning again to Ship Island.

Fortress Monroe, April 30.—The Charleston Mercury says that nine schooners left the city on Saturday week to run the blockade. Four of them were captured and taken to Port Royal.

Harrisonburg, Va., April 28.—Through secession channels we learn that the Governor of North Carolina was arrested and imprisoned in Richmond, two weeks ago, on account of the Union sentiments he had avowed.

Jackson has removed his wagon train six miles since yesterday, indicating his intention to retire still further. A squadron of cavalry was the only rebel force discovered today on the right side of the Rhappahannock river. There were at Meechinghtown. It has been reported that Staunton is occupied by Gen. Milroy, but we have no news confirming it. The river is still too high to attempt crossing with safety. The dense smoke was seen in that direction to-day—cause unknown.

Cairo, April 30.—Arrivals from New Madrid report that heavy and continuous firing was heard in the direction of Fort Wright on Monday night and on Tuesday. No vessel has arrived from the fleet since Monday noon. The damage to property and stock in the vicinity of New Madrid by the flood is immense. Hundreds of houses on the river bank were submerged, and thousands of cattle, sheep and hogs were washed away. Along the river there is very great suffering in consequence of the unprecedented flood. The whole of Columbus, up to the foot of the fortifications, was overflowed. The town of Hickman is also suffering. The forts and batteries at Island No. 10 are still under water except the upper battery.

The Hong Kong correspondent of the London Times, writing in March, reports that a Confederate privateer had been fallen in with on the coast of Borneo. The correspondent says that this is particularly unfortunate for American shipping as the Federal Government has not a single war vessel of any description in those waters except the Sagine and she is rotten.

Genoa, N. T., April 30.—At precisely 2 o'clock this afternoon our citizens were startled by a tremendous noise resembling an earthquake. All rushed to the street, when it was observed that an immense land-slide had occurred in the mountain, the mouth of which formerly stood a fine water power mill owned by Scott & Tuttle. It was the work of but a moment, and there was not a vestige of the mill left. Everything was instantaneously swept clean to the bedrock, killing and mangling the family of R. Brashers, who was loading lumber below the mill, and dashing onward in its mad career, destroying everything before it, including Mr. Brashers' house, about 200 yards below the mill. His family barely escaped.

The mill cost some $7,000 or $8,000. The house of Mr. Brashers was soon found and dug out from the mud and timbers, horribly mangled. Three yoke of cattle were buried. One yoke was dug out safe and sound; the other was mashed to pieces, together with the wagon.

A CARD

I would say to my friends in the Willamette Valley and to all whom it may concern that I have fully discontinued and forever abandoned the practice of Medicine and Surgery and will not practice in any of its branches after the first day of April 1862 and will refer patients who may call on Dr J Flatter's old stand to Dr Flatter who is now in San Francisco. Those indebted to Dr Flatter are requested to call and settle their accounts as soon as possible. I would also say to my friends in Portland and the Willamette country that I have been in the habit of purchasing Drugs in the San Francisco market for many years and am now selling off my present stock at reduced prices. Dr Flatter's long experience in the practice of Medicine and Surgery in this country and his well known skill and success in the treatment of Chronic diseases, renders it unnecessary for me to say more than that I have entire confidence in his ability to treat successfully all cases that may require the services of a Physician and Surgeon. I have left in the hands of Dr Flatter many testimonials of cures performed by me, which I would have published, but I have been informed by Dr Flatter that he would attend to that matter himself. I therefore refer my friends and the public generally to Dr Flatter, and bespeak for him the confidence and patronage of the community. I have left with Dr Flatter my Medical Books, Instruments, Medicines, &c., and have given him full power to settle all my business matters.

H. S. LANE.

N B.—That we cordially endorse the above we have known Dr Flatter for many years and have no hesitation in recommending him to the confidence of the community.

Shadows.

An old clerk sat on his high-legged stool
Surrounded by papers, record and tools
And by the night, each pile of the work was ruled
Of days gone by when his life was school
He dreamed of seeking a richer hunting ground
As he formed his [illegible] books

He thought how he'd round up his own way
A round of fame the while
How every home on the hill would say
What untold wealth his head would store
As he basked in the light of fortune today
Nor looked for a cloud on the door

But alas for the dreams that fancy weaves
As on [illegible] sat
How sadly bright that deceives
How often it is to come that shadows
Independent of [illegible]
Alas the sad romance days

He thought with empire he would be cured,
A country home to rule
But I see him still at the desk at noon
His youthful ambition's rules [illegible]
His wither'd heart [illegible]
His only home is here

He trusted the future to bring him gain,
And servants to [illegible]
But still he waits the golden wand to turn
And he had in [illegible]
Though at last it is not he who [illegible]
For he is only a book

The old clerk sat on his high-legged stool
Surrounded by papers and books
And faster he plied his task [illegible]

When into the future he looks

Heroism in Humble Life

BY ANNIE SAWYER DOWNS

'Then I said, mine own heart beating
To the tinkling [illegible]
Life hath [illegible]
True, tender, brave, and sweet.'

A June sun shone hot and glaring on a low brown house, that stood very near, a sandy road, in one of the farming districts of New Hampshire. Not a tree nearer than the next field, which, by way of compliment was called "the orchard," but a few straggling morning-glories, and one or two puny asters (known to the mistress of the house as "China asters,") in a box under the window, told that even here, were some dim, ill-understood yearnings after beautiful objects. Near the broad, flat door stone, three yellow-haired chubby children were making dirt pies, not one of them old enough to walk the two miles that lay between them and the district school-house. Inside the house a sickly, discouraged looking woman was trying to coax an obstinate baby of half a year old to go to sleep. "Poor Mrs. Plummer'" as the neighbors called her, with no hands but her own to do a chore, —was it any wonder that the flies were helping themselves to the remains of the slovenly breakfast, that the milk things still remained where her husband left them before sunrise; that the attempt she had made at washing only amounted to a most confusing litter of tubs and soiled garments, and that in the midst of it all, obliged to sit down by the screaming child, she had only heart enough to darn, disconsolately, the heel of an old stocking that ought to have gone to rags months ago?

Frances Plummer and John, her husband, had been married six years, and everybody agreed that they "had had a hard road to hoe." To be sure, his father left him the old house, the rickety barn behind it, and some or two acres of rocky, sandy soil; but even this was not all paid for, and if it had been, it wouldn't have been worth much, for as John said, "There wasn't an acre of pasturage on it," and his poor cow had to pick up her scanty living most anywhere. But they married young, and full of hope, they thought the work of building up a modest fortune would not be too hard for them. Somehow or other, they did not get along; they had bad seasons; farmers cut down the wages of their hired men, and when the children began to come so fast, the wife grew weak and ailing, and John found that as the years went by, they only made out to get a poor living. The spring of 1861, had, however, looked a little better for them, for John had secured a small farm, two or three miles from home, to carry on at the halves, and he hoped by autumn, to have something in his pocket wherewith to help to pay off the mortgage. But in spite of this good fortune, Frances, as she sat rocking the cradle, thought her husband had seemed anxious and silent for the last few weeks, and her mind, always foreboding, grew troubled with sense of some new grief to befall them. The rocking dropped from her fingers, and it was some minutes before she discovered that her child had at last wearied itself into a restless slumber. She got up wearily, reluctantly and attempted to bring some order out of the chaos that reigned around her. Perhaps you think she and her husband were rather weak sort of bodies, but if you ever tried to get your daily bread off from eighty two acres of New Hampshire rocks, with a house and four babies for capital, you will have a little charity for that species of weakness.

Hour by hour the morning wore away, and although the noisy children trooped in one after the other, woke the baby and undid a great part of her work, still, by noon, which brought dinner and her husband, things did look a little civilized. Noon certainly did not bring a large amount of dinner that day, but, looking across the flat, she saw John's manly form, and a glow passed over her thin, sallow face, for in spite of their unromantic surroundings, these two people loved each other as do not many husbands and wives who live in stately dwellings. She took up the salt pork and potatoes, lifted the baby into a high chair, and when John, escorted by the three dirt pie makers, came into the kitchen, he looked as if he thought she had done about as well as a woman could do who had nothing to do with. But still she noticed his careless answers to the children, and once or twice detected a long, hard breath, as if he were making up some desperate resolve. She tried to speak of it two or three times, but something sealed her lips, and he saved her the effort.—"Fanny, our company, the Stark Rifles, are going to the war."

She saw it all in a moment—the picture of her husband as she had seen him years ago, before they had ever thought of being married, above his fellows on the muster field in bought, yet stooping low his proud head in acknowledgement of her timid bow. And then another scene took its place—that tall figure, in the old familiar uniform, lying stained with dust and blood on the far off battle ground. She looked ready to faint but still he went on with his story.

"I knew it a week ago, Frances—knew it when the governor called out the regiment to which we belong, but I dare not tell you." No word from the pale woman by his side—only one wild thought in her brain. Could she not hold, keep back this man, her one earthly hope, from what seemed to her certain death?

SEWING MACHINES

ARE UNEQUALLED BY ANY FOR

BEAUTY AND SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION

—AND—

Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE

SHOULD BE WELL MADE, simple in its construction, and easily kept in order, should make a TIGHT LOCK STITCH, alike on both sides of the material and should sew any and all materials that can be sewed.

It should be able to use cotton, thread, or silk directly from the spool, and to sew from coarse to fine, and from thick to thin, with rapidity, and without changing the tension. It should also be able to make the tension greater or less, or both the under and upper threads and with uniformity; and should have a straight needle, curved ones being liable to break.

The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work.

It should be able to blind with a binder, hem with a hemmer, should stitch, fell, run and gather, and always ready to work.

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work, and of using different colored thread on silk above or below to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be united.

It should be able to make a long or short stitch and to fasten off the seam, and commence sewing tightly at the first stitch, and to run easily, and make but little noise.

It should have a wheel-feed, as others are in constant contact with the work.

It should not be liable to get out of order, neither should it require a screw-driver or wrench to set the needle.

It should not be liable to oil the operator's dress.

It should not form a ridge on the under side of the [illegible].

To the Afflicted!

Suffer no more when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret disease—Self Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Joints, Diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Polypus, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Diseases, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a perseverance at once can be effected by any other treatment even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians, and resisted all their powers of cure. The medicines prescribed are pleasant, without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness, and free from mercury or balsam. During fifteen years of practice in Europe the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands, who in the last stages of the above-mentioned diseases, had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted, who may place themselves under my care a speedy and permanent cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula and many other diseases, and should be a curse to the human family. A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected—a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons who not only fail to cure the disease but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which, with the disease, hastens the victim into a rapid consumption. But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries, the disease is entailed up on the children who are born with feeble constitutions and the current of life contorted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions and other affections of the skin, sore throat and lungs, rendering them a hated existence of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave.

Seligmata is another formidable enemy to health for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human disturbance so certain upon the system—drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system rapidly where only the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business, and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of self-abuse, that a perfect and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices, my patients can be restored to robust vigorous health.

Irregularities, and all diseases of males and females treated on principles established by fifteen years of practice and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures—Medicines, with full directions, sent to any part of the State Oregon and Washington Territory, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter.

All business correspondence strictly confidential. Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, Medical Institute Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s Office, San Francisco.

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief.

Below we publish the testimonial of three of the sufferers from the ravages of disease, who having received their former health and happiness by gratitude make known their case; and in any and every instance that statement are authenticated by a Notary Public. Thousands of society unfortunately command their publicity and we cannot and direct personal to the attention of the afflicted.

Certificate—The undersigned, desirous of acquainting those who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly afflicted, where a permanent cure of their sufferings may be obtained, feels it his duty to thus publicly express his sense of gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay, for the remains of recovery of his health. Borne down by the distressing symptoms usually met to the victim, practice of uncontrollable passion in early youth, depression in body and mind manifesting themselves in the most terrifying gloom supposed upon on the ordinary investigations of life I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first regarded by discussion of trifling importance—but alas, after a few weeks and in several instances months, of their treatment. Morbid to my unutterable horror that instead of relief, my symptoms became more alarming in their torturing and fatal. Led by one that my disease being principally confined to the brain medicine would be of little consequence, I despaired of ever regaining my health, strength and energy, and as a last resort, and with but a faint hope, called upon Dr. Czapkay, who, after examining my case, prescribed some medicine which almost instantly relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness in my head. Encouraged by the result, I resolved to place myself immediately under his care and by a strict adherence to all his directions and advice, my health became clear and sunshine collected the distant pain in my back and limbs, the weakness of my limbs, the nervous restless of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement, the misanthropy and all forebodings of self-distrust and want of confidence in others the inexpability to study, and want of resolution, the frightful, exciting, and at times pleasurable dreams at night, followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared; and in fact, in two months after having [illegible] but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand. With this view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured by my own experience that those under his care a radical and permanent cure will follow.

MARYSVILLE, June 24, 1856.

Dr. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco—Sir: I have just got the last of your medicine, and do not think I shall need more, as I feel very well, except that I have not gained my strength yet, but soon will with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks, you may recollect, since I left your Institute, with my constitution, as I thought, ruined entirely, and never thought you would be able to restore it perfectly but thought you might be able to do much to cause the pain in my back and head, and weakness so that I would not get excited and trouble myself about anything. Now that you know what I expected, you can judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery from all symptoms and the removal of those sores and blotches on my skin, and the ulcers from my throat, and the [illegible] page of those emblems, which you would see perfectly the cause of my sickness. I can hardly tell you what is the greatest, my joy or my surprise, for except not having got my strength, I feel as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars over your fee. I think myself cheaply cured. If you think such a [illegible] benefited, you may put this letter in the newspapers. Remain gratefully yours,

THOMAS M. [illegible]

CERTIFICATE.—Prompted by an honest desire [illegible] I wish to lay before the public a case which demands immediate mention not only as an act of scientific skill and humanity also. About two years ago, I suddenly, from causes unknown to me, was seized with a [illegible] which, owing to my inability to meet the [illegible] quent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the disagreement which I met with on attempting it, more [illegible] such (I was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of any physician. I was frequently, while in pursuit of my [illegible] thrown down to the ground without the slightest [illegible] and although insensible to the agonies, I yet [illegible] miseries of my life, and soon learned to look upon [illegible] would render assistance or shelter me from the [illegible] ness who sought to prolong the existence of my [illegible] While in this state and having, previous to my last [illegible] tasted the sweets of life, I once more was [illegible] seeking, and of a physician, and, by recommendation [illegible] upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him of my case, and of my inability to reward him for his services; [illegible] of which, however he at once undertook my case, and with the blessing of God, I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I then [illegible] present and yet ever in love of my fellowmen, I [illegible] due to myself and all afflicted, to make the case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed.
